Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-50 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-28 of U.S. Patent No. 6,340,637B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims differ by the line "placing the substrate within a plasma-enhanced deposition chamber". It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified the claims of the invention in order to recite this limitation because the claims are drawn to a plasma process in which a plasma is formed in the deposition chamber, so that a plasma enhanced deposition chamber would have been obvious, and the placing of a substrate in the chamber is a conventional step. With respect to the words "forming" rather than "providing", claim 29 of the application recites "forming". With respect to the words "flowing" rather than "admitting", this variation is obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art because the gaseous components would be expected to flow in the processing which is conventional in the art in a CVD or PECVD processing chamber, in which the reactants are flowed into and the by-products are flowed out of the chamber during the process.

The references cited and not relied upon are considered relevant to applicant's disclosure as background references.
